

Middle Of Nowhere

Ber

Funny that you say you hate the city
It's the only place we ever worked
Kiss me and I taste that you'd prefer a
Masochistic kinda suffocation
Rather have my feet up in the dirt
Always count on me put you first

All your promises
Pretty things you said
They lay motionless
Watched 'em disappear

It still hurts me that you're so unaware
Gave you everything, and you didn't care
Sure, you loved me when I was in front of you
But I loved you right there
In the middle of nowhere

Funny how with every conversation
You'd be looking through me like a window
Was I just some good old validation?
Proof that you could find somebody in the echo

All your promises
Pretty things you said
They lay motionless
Watched 'em disappear

It still hurts me that you're so unaware
Gave you everything, and you didn't care
Sure, you loved me when I was in front of you
But I loved you right there
In the middle of nowhere

And it still kills me how you're leaving me dry
I still miss you and I don't know why
Sure, you loved me when I was in front of you but I loved you right there
In the middle of nowhere

And the worst feeling I ever felt
Was when I felt you slipping away
I'm just a notch in your belt
While you're the one that got away
Just like you to be quiet
When I've got so much left I could say
But oh my god after all these years at the end of the day

It still hurts me that you're so unaware
Gave you everything and you'll never care
Sure, you loved me when I was in front of you
Did you love me when I was in front of you?
Sure, you loved me when I was in front of you but I still love you right there
