Blame It on the World

Berlin

Kill The Light
That's the easy way out
I hear you say
More rain
And nobody ever calls
It's all because

Broken light
In pieces on the ground
I know one thing
There is no time
And the sky is gonna fall
It's all because

So close your eyes and turn away
Hey yeah yeah

Blame it on the world
No regrets
Just another day to forget
Tell me what's the point if you remain unforgiving

You know that you can change
Inside your heart
And everyone will see who you really are
Or blame it on the world
Stand beside the edge of living

You gave me life
But you couldn't find your own
And I still hold on
To your dreams
And a life that never was
It's all because

You know that you can change
Inside your heart
And everyone will see who they really are
Or blame it on the world
Stand beside the edge of living

So hide yourself and fade away
Hey yeah yeah

Blame it on the world
No regrets
Just another day to forget
Tell me what's the point if you remain unforgiving

Point your finger to the sky and make up little alibis
You're a tragedy addicted to sympathy
Got to be a way for you to see the light of day...
You could be who you want to be