

Worth It

Berner

(IDK, turn me up)

(BB on the track)

You fucked the money off, was it worth it?
Talk about the fam, I don't never understand
Now you left empty-handed, was it worth it?
You just celebrated, was it worth it?
Now you barely wanna surface
Probably should've never stole
But I really wanna know was it worth it?
You fucked the money off, was it worth it?
Talk about the fam, I don't never understand
Now you left empty-handed, was it worth it?

She in the club doin' extras, somewhere out in Texas
I bet she regret not cleanin' up the messes
Green-bubble text, nah, I didn't get the message
My new bitch is precious, her pussy is the freshest
Change my number one more time for the fake friends (The fake friends)
You too wild, it don't make sense
Cats subtweetin' like bitches, I'ma say less (Say less)
Enjoy it over there, they pay less (Man)
He tried to run off on the plug
Now his name burnt (He burnt), heard they got him in the club
Would really do dirt, save it underneath the rug
If he play with me, I'ma make him eat a slug (Eat a slug)
Fuck the buzz, my run twenty years plus (Plus)
All the paper that I touch, all the paper that I tuck (That I tuck)
I'm on my shit this year, tell a hater give it up
Throw the money in the bag, zip it up

You fucked the money off, was it worth it?
Talk about the fam, I don't never understand
Now you left empty-handed, was it worth it?
You just celebrated, was it worth it?
Now you barely wanna surface
Probably should've never stole
But I really wanna know was it worth it?

You thought we had the world ahead of us
Think about appreciatin' the experience for once
Plannin' trips that never happened, circumstances outta my control
There for all the tough times, only Heaven knows
I can't front with good shit I never done before
And them trenches that we never goin' back to
Know where you started, leveled up, humble beginnings
Was in search of something that we just never could get to
I know greater is my purpose, I apologize
I had the cards, you prayed for my demise
Told you how to be your best, every time, you rise
Even if it's just the lil' things, I'm prayin' that you do your thing
Be great, be great, do that shit up over there, though
Chefs in the kitchen, swimming pools where the pillows at
Right now, life right now
Let's just say I know my worth

You fucked the money off, was it worth it?

Talk about the fam, I don't never understand
Now you left empty-handed, was it worth it?
You just celebrated, was it worth it?
Now you barely wanna surface
Probably should've never stole
But I really wanna know was it worth it?
