

Find Someone

Beta Radio

Quit lying and saying that you're sorry
Let's quit time and quit being in a hurry
Red lights, here we are just driving on

Transform the poison inside you
Into something brand new
That don't hurt no more

You're eating dessert deep in the desert where
You thought you'd be happier there
But that's where you learn

What doesn't burn up in a furnace or a fury
Let's quit time and quit being in a hurry
I'm sentimental for all of the versions of

White lies, I'm hiding from my body
Red lights, don't stop who's in a hurry
Late nights, here we are just turning on

Anoint me with the ointment beside you
What have the prophets told you?
That it won't hurt no more?

All of your thoughts seep deep in my head I swear
I lay them down on the altar and stare
Cause what's holy won't burn

I get so caught up in a world full of worries
For a moment let's not be in a hurry
I'm sentimental for all of the versions of

Red hot, stop saying that you're sorry
Red lights, don't stop who's in a hurry
Train rides, here we are just rolling on
Before it comes undone

White lies, I'm hiding from my body
Let's quit time and quit being in a hurry
A high wire, here I am just walking on Gone to find someone

I get so caught up in a world full of worries
For a moment let's not be in a hurry
Sentimental for all of the versions of
What I want to be

Will it burn up in a furnace or a fury
Let's quit time and quit being in a hurry
Sentimental for all of the versions of
What I wanted you to be

You get so caught up in a world full of worries
For a moment let's not be in a hurry
Sentimental for all of the versions of
What you wanted me to be

You get so caught up in a world full of worries
For a moment let's not be in a hurry
Sentimental for all of the versions of
What I want to be
