Falling

Betcha

I told my mother "I'm breaking down"
She told me "son, it's good you're being aware"
I wish I had me a sacred town
To go when I don't have a reason to care

Maybe I would stay
Maybe I would go
Maybe it's just not fair
To think I'm walking on solid ground
Until I find my feet are up in the air

'Cause I keep falling
'Cause I keep falling

Feels like I'm always fucking waiting
I'm getting sick of being patient

I told my lover "I'll make it out"
She said "don't worry, just keep taking your time"
But I keep getting concerned about
The things I never thought would enter my mind

Maybe they'll stay
Maybe they'll go
Maybe they're just not there
Feels like I'm having to wait around
I'm always ready but I'm never prepared

'Cause I keep falling
'Cause I keep falling

Feels like I'm always fucking waiting
I'm getting sick of being patient

You stopped to say that I got to let it go
Got to let it go, and just fly
You stopped to say that I got to let it go
Got to let it go, and just fly
You stopped to say that I got to let it go
Got to let it go, and just fly
You stopped to say that I got to let it go
Got to let it go

Feels like I'm always fucking waiting
(You stopped to say that I got to let it go, got to let it go)
I'm getting sick of being patient
(You stopped to say that I got to let it go, got to let it go)

'Cause I keep falling
'Cause I keep falling
