

Gone

Beth Crowley

My greatest love is gone
He might as well have died
An impostor wears his face
One I barely recognize
And something burns inside of me
Anger eats me alive
But lock us both up in a cage
I'm the one who will survive

So are you happy now?
You got exactly what you wanted
You try to break me down
Destroy me piece by piece
But I have made a vow
I won't live the life you made me choose
We're players in a game that I don't intend to lose

My greatest love is gone
You took him far away
He sits right next to me
But he'll never be the same
You thief you found my weakness
And you went on the attack
But look over your shoulder
See my target on your back

So are you happy now?
You got exactly what you wanted
You try to break me down
Destroy me piece by piece
But I have made a vow
I won't live the life you made me choose
We're players in a game that I don't intend to lose

Fight or flight
Was the decision ever mine?
It was never mine

So are you happy now?
You got exactly what you wanted
You try to break me down
Destroy me piece by piece
But I have made a vow
I won't live the life you made me choose
We're players in a game that I don't intend to lose
We're players in a game that I don't intend to lose
