

In Again

Beth Crowley

I walk out the door and
You try to stop me
Wish love was that easy
You almost caught me
But we've been down this road before
It doesn't end well

'Cause I know what will happen
If I end up staying
You never live up to
My expectations
So let's just stop before this starts
Can't deny it's for the best

I see you and I foolishly
Believe it will be like it was before, before
Then I realize we don't have
Anything in common anymore, anymore
We're just two strangers with a history
You still know how to get to me
I can feel you trying to crawl under my skin
But I won't let you in again

We used to imagine
We could really be something
I think I go back there
Cause a part of me wants it
But we made way too big a mess
To ever start clean

So I tell you it's over
You say that I'm lying
Cause you still make my heart race
Whenever you're smiling
But this is not a fairytale
I'm not who I used to be

I see you and I foolishly
Believe it will be like it was before, before
Then I realize we don't have
Anything in common anymore, anymore
We're just two strangers with a history
You still know how to get to me
I can feel you trying to crawl under my skin
But I won't let you in again

I'll admit that
In my daydreams
There is a version
Where you're beside me
Maybe I'm just a hopeless romantic
Who still has hope

But I see you and I foolishly
Believe it will be like it was before, before
Then I realize we don't have
Anything in common anymore, anymore

We're just two strangers with a history
You still know how to get to me
I can feel you trying to crawl under my skin
But I won't let you in again
