

There In Your Heart

Beth Hart

I just stopped by to see your face
I heard you been out running and hiding all over the place
So you gone and you decided to give it all away to the church
You say you ain't sick but every little bit of the living hurts

Wherever you go whatever you do
I will be there inside of you
There in your heart
There in your heart
Wherever you go I will go too

The hours laid out like lightning stretching far across the sky
You say, you say it must be a million years ago when I believed that I could fly
Maybe I'll burn down the house or build crosses from the wood
Maybe I'll go to Africa and be lion king if only I could

Wherever you go whatever you do
I will be there inside of you
There in your heart
There in your heart
Wherever you go I will go too

I was there in the beginning when you took your first breath alone
I'll be there in the ending when the world's desire leaves your bones
In all of the corners and in all the wide open spaces in the dark
I'll be there in your heart
I'll be there in your heart

I'll be there in your heart
There in your heart
I'll be there in your heart
