

World Without You

Beth Hart

Days an' nights, an' nights an' days
In silent shades of lazy grays
I call your name, it's all the same

Sitting, staring at the ceiling
Dripping painted, pictures peeling
From my walls, the time just crawls

Was it yesterday? I don't know
Was I dreaming or did I lose everything I believed in?
If you could only see what I see
Every time you leave

Imagine a world with no sky
Imagine the ocean run dry
Imagine, and you'll see the view
Of my world without you

Imagine no sun and no rain
Imagine that each day's the same
It doesn't matter, what I do
In a world without you

A doer's doing, thinker's thinking
Lonely lover's lips are sinking
In my tea, they're burning me

Wasted weeping, someone speaking
In my head, the bed is leaking tears again
And there's no end

Was it yesterday? I don't know
Was I dreaming or did I lose everything I believed in?
If you could only see what I see
Every time you leave

Imagine a world with no sky
Imagine the ocean run dry
Imagine, and you'll see the view
Of my world without you

Imagine no sun and no rain
Imagine that each day's the same
It doesn't matter what I do
In a world without you

And it's, nothing last forever
And it's, the empty never ends
And I can't stand the thought of breathing
Till I, I see you again

Imagine a world with no sky
Imagine the ocean run dry
Imagine, and you'll see the view
Of my world without you

Imagine no sun and no rain

Imagine that each day's the same
It doesn't matter what I do
In a world without you

Imagine, in a world without you
Imagine, in a world without you
Imagine, I don't wanna be alone
Imagine, in this world without you

Imagine a world with no sky
Imagine the ocean run dry
Imagine, and you'll see the view
I don't want, I don't want to be alone

Imagine no sun and no rain
Imagine that each day's the same
It doesn't matter what I do
My world, your world, our world
