

July (Noah Cyrus Response)

Beth McCarthy

You're holding your head
Just trying to make sense
Of all that they said
Don't know how you got here
Looking for a way to steer
Them away from the end

Ask yourself
What is there to save?
When they're telling you they've
Made up their mind

If they wanna leave
Then shake their hand
And let them go
It's gonna be hard to
But if they loved you
Darling you'd know
So stop begging them to stay
They're not the one and that's okay

It's another goodbye
That you didn't want
I know you're dying inside
But you've gotta be strong
You can love someone
And still try to move on

I know you're not
Ready to give up
But you gave them all you got
And that's enough

So, if they wanna leave
Then shake their hand
And let them go
It's gonna be hard to
But if they loved you
Darling you'd know
So stop begging them to stay
They're not the one and that's okay

If they wanna leave
Then you gotta believe
That you're better alone

So stop begging them to stay
They're not the one and that's okay
