

Flesh & Bone

Bethany Joy Lenz

I didn't come here to talk
Watching your hands when we went over that counter
That coffee was on my mind
I had to remind myself we were strangers once
All of this time spent
Learning to learn you and love you
And I'm tangled transparent lines
Keeping me tight to you
Coming back for more

And I want this and I hate myself
And I don't know when and I don't know how and I know I'm gonna pay for it
For loving you
(Are we only flesh and bone?)

Are we only flesh and bone?
I'm tired of fighting just to say I did it right
I want your flesh and bone
Holding on to you tight enough to break
You better take it easy on me
You better take it easy on me

Did you know what you were doing?
Laughing it up like you ain't serious when I'm a heart attack
When you laugh like that
I'm flashing back, flashing back
Your Cadillac that's someone can you
Smoke it out until we hit the ceiling
Acting out 'cause we only need it

We only need it flesh and bone
I'm tired of fighting just to say I did it right
I want your flesh and bone
Holding on to you tight enough to break
You better take it easy on me
You better take it easy on me

You congratulate yourself like you're doing well
When you're anything but fine
Honestly I hate myself for staying in this hell
Turn these circles into lines
You congratulate yourself like you're doing well
When you're anything but fine
Honestly I hate myself for staying in this hell
Trying to turn these circles into lines

Are we only flesh and bone?
I'm tired of fighting just to say I did it right
I want your flesh and bone
Holding on to you tight enough to break
Are we only flesh and bone?
I'm tired of fighting just to say I did it right
I want your flesh and bone
Holding on to you tight enough to break
You better take it easy on me
Holding on to you tight enough to break
You better take it easy on me

Are we only flesh and bone?
I'm tired of fighting just to say I did it right
I want your flesh and bone
(I want your flesh and bone)
