

Death Is Hollow

Bethel Music

In the grieving and in the aching
The dawn is breaking on our third day
And in a moment comes the message
Shouted breathless, our King is raised

Have you heard the news, that veil is torn in two
And what you could not reach you are now able to
Have you heard the news, death is hollow now
'Cause the grave you feared has been emptied out

In our upper room appearing
He is here and we can see
How the scars on His hands and feet
Tell the great defeat of our enemy

Have you heard the news, that veil is torn in two
And what you could not reach you are now able to
Have you heard the news, death is hollow now
'Cause the grave you feared has been emptied out

With His blood in the soil and thorns in His head
He ripped all the power and the fear out of death
With His arms stretched out on the breadth of the cross
In undefeatable life, He was covering us

With His blood in the soil and thorns in His head
He ripped all the power and the fear out of death
With His arms stretched out on the breadth of the cross
In undefeatable life, He was covering us

With His blood in the soil and thorns in His head
He ripped all the power and the fear out of death
With His arms stretched out on the breadth of the cross
In undefeatable life, He was covering us

Have you heard the news, that veil is torn in two
And what you could not reach you are now able to
Have you heard the news, death is hollow now
'Cause the grave you feared has been emptied out
Oh-oo

One day, face to face
We'll see with our eyes what once took faith
We're gonna touch heaven
We're gonna touch heaven (With our hands)

One day, face to face
We'll see with our eyes what once took faith
We're gonna touch heaven
We're gonna touch heaven with our hands

One day, face to face
We'll see with our eyes what once took faith
We're gonna touch heaven
We're gonna touch heaven with our hands

One day, face to face

We'll see with our eyes what once took faith
We're gonna touch heaven
We're gonna touch heaven (With our hands)

We're gonna touch heaven
We're gonna touch heaven (With our hands)
We're gonna touch heaven
We're gonna touch heaven with our hands

We're gonna touch heaven (Oh)
We're gonna touch heaven (With our hands)
We're gonna touch heaven
We're gonna touch heaven

With His blood in the soil and thorns in His head
He ripped all the power and the fear out of death
With His arms stretched out on the breadth of the cross
In undefeatable life, He was covering us

With His blood in the soil and thorns in His head
He ripped all the power and the fear out of death
With His arms stretched out on the breadth of the cross
In undefeatable life, He was covering us

We're gonna touch heaven
We're gonna touch heaven (With our hands)
We're gonna touch heaven
We're gonna touch heaven with our hands
We're gonna touch heaven
We're gonna touch heaven (With our hands)
We're gonna touch heaven (We're gonna touch heaven)

Have you heard the news, that veil is torn in two
And what we could not reach we are now able to
Have you heard the news, death is hollow now
'Cause the grave you feared has been emptied out

One day, face to face
We'll see with our eyes what once took faith
We're gonna touch heaven
We're gonna touch heaven with our hands

One day, face to face
We'll see with our eyes what once took faith
We're gonna touch heaven
We're gonna touch heaven with our hands

This is my story
This is my song