

Love As An Act Of Rebellion

Better Lovers

Try to disgrace me
But you can't face me
Never hear when perpetually loud
Adolescent mind
Move backwards in time
No one has yesterday without tomorrow

Hate in a heart has no place in our world now
Turns us into slaves
Through love alone we all become one
Hate in a heart has no place in our world anymore

How can we survive
If love has become an act of rebellion?

With the lights off
In separate rooms we're lying
What happens if we talk?
We'd better start remembering
Just what we are
We've gotten by pretending so far
In a world where
We're the only
I'd still take life without you
I'd still be lost without you

How can we survive
If love has become an act of rebellion?

How can we survive
How can we survive
How can we survive
If love has become an act of rebellion?

We're the only
I'd still take life without you
I'd still be lost without you
We're the only
I'd still take life without you
I'd still be lost without you
I'd still be lost without you
