

Like a Star

Better Off

Does it eat you?
Does it eat you alive?
Don't you know, if I can speak truth
I'm tired of lies
I'm tired and you're alone
Does it seem cool?
It doesn't seem cool
Lay on the floor
And all you seem to do is sigh and moan
But time is running short
Looking back to the start
You do your best but the moment does not have the heart
Worried you'll fall apart
Head in the clouds
Because you'll always fall like a star
Can I still see you?
Can I still see you blow them away?
Remember you used to do whatever you want
Nothings ever in your way

It's not the same crew
But nothing ever stays the same
Can I still see you
Smile again and let the children play
Looking back to the start
You do your best but the moment does not have the heart
Worried you'll fall apart
Head in the clouds
Because you'll always fall like a star
I'm just a soul that's falling backwards
Looking back to the start
You do your best but the moment does not have the heart
Worried you'll fall apart
Head in the clouds
Because you'll always fall like a star
