Wintercoats

Better Than Ezra

Discarded, left behind
Paper cups and sour wine
Candle wax, tablecloth
Try to wash, it won't come off

Ticket stubs and movie scenes Dustin Hoffman has gangrene Ferris wheel in the park City lights after dark

Well I'm goin' home when I find the girl Makes me forget what I should have done In winter coats, in winter coats In winter coats, in winter

Lives are fallin' fast in line The words make sense But they don't seem to rhyme

Risin' tide, ocean breeze Crashin' waves, askin' please Listen to the radio Singin' with the songs you know

Tim passing, memory fades
Forget about the plans we made
Decisions, wrap the coat up tight
We keep it safe from the light

But I'm goin' home when I find the girl Makes me forget what I should have not In winter coats, in winter coats In winter coats, in winter

Lives are fallin' fast in line The words make sense But they don't seem to rhyme

Take it, Joel

But I'm goin' home where I'll find the girl That we won't forget what we should have not In winter coats, in winter coats In winter coats, in winter

Lives are fallin' fast in line Our words make sense But we don't seem to rhyme

We don't seem to rhyme We don't seem to rhyme We don't seem to rhyme
