

Cut 'n Dried

Bettie Serveert

It's funny, how we seem to forget all the hassles and troubles, ever since we met and then you call me and say that it's cut and dried

But it's heartache just enough for anybody Distance when you got nowhere to run to Hold on systematically forgiven
How long can anyone believe it

But you're telling me, this is not what you planned.
Forcing me, but I won't take a stand.
I don't wanna leave, but you know that you always can and you know that I'd understand that it's not our good deeds.

We just follow our senses and we take what we need
cut and dried

But it's heartache just enough for anybody
Distance when you got nowhere to run to
Hold on systematically forgiven
How long can anyone believe it

And you're telling me, this is not what you planned.
Forcing me, but I won't take a stand.
I don't wanna leave, but you know
that you always can and you know that I'll understand
