

Have a Heart

Bettie Serveert

A pointless state of mind
You said so yourself
Now here's your distraction,
Coming through the sidedoor
Can we synchronize our souls?

I know you will be fine
It's just a matter of opinion
But plead no more sorrow
Life can be so easy,
Like tonguing candy
Out your molars
From your snicker-bar-lunch
There's a start, there's a start

Have a heart
I need to see your laughter
I need to hear your laughter

And in between the sea of sounds
You gotta make it happen now
It's only just begun
It's dabbling in the sun

I need to see your laughter
I need to hear your laughter

And pretty soon,
You'll realize
The beauty of the simple life
And your signs are the stars

Have a heart
I need to hear your laughter
I need to hear your laughter
Have a heart
Have a heart

I need to hear your laughter
I need to hear your laughter
Have a heart
Have a heart
