

I Guess We Shouldn't Talk About That Now

Bettye Lavette

Maybe we ought to think this through
Maybe we ought to tell the truth
This is the point of no return
I don't belong to you
But I guess we shouldn't talk about that now
Maybe we ought to close the door
Shut out all the world that's been before
Oh this might be a mistake
But it's too late not to make
But I guess we shouldn't talk about that now
You can't take back a touch
You can't undo a deep emotion
Desparation comes once the heart has given in
When love's against the tide
Everybody gets broken
But I guess we shouldn't talk about that now
You can't take back a touch
You can't undo a deep emotion
Desparation comes once the heart has given in
When love's against the tide
Everybody gets broken
But I guess we shouldn't talk about that now
But should tomorrow bring a brand new way of seeing
Just walk on away, don't say another word
You can't take back a touch
You can't undo a deep emotion
Desparation comes once the heart has given in
When love's against the tide
Tell you everybody gets broken
But I guess we shouldn't talk about that now
Maybe we ought to just close the door
