

Catch A Break

Between You & Me

I can't help feeling like a failure in your eyes
But I got nothing left inside
To make me happy
But you know I can't be something that I'm not
I'm not quite sure where to go from here
The days are passing by
And I'm losing time

Help me catch a break
Cause this smile's so hard to fake
I second guess all night
(I'm in a losing fight)
Myself against my brain
Against my...

But your words are scarring me
I let them crawl right underneath
The ugly surface that reflected you, not me
I think it's time that I stood up for me
Cause you got no sympathy
For the way that I've been feeling

Could you care a little more
Or I'll be right on out that door
I will hide the only key
In this hole beneath my feet
And if you start to feel remorse
Or come knocking at my door
Just know that I won't let you in
So you better start to take (You better start to...)

Help me catch a break
Cause this smile's so hard to fake
I second guess all night
(I'm in a losing fight)
Myself against my brain
Against my... brain

Myself against my brain
(Over and over)
It's driving me insane
(Over and over)
Myself against my brain
(Over and over)
It's driving me insane
(Over and over)

(Over and over)
Help me catch a break
(Over and over)
And it's driving me insane
Through my darker days
You held the match and let it break
I light the candle, find my way
Without the father I erased