

Cavalier

Between You & Me

I won't lie you tend to cross mind
Cause the way you left just wasn't right
Believe what you want but you're still wrong
Maybe I, I just need some time
To try forget all of your lies
You're nothing but a blighter all along

You show no penitence for all of this deception you flaunt
It's getting to me, and I can't believe
You act so cavalier to hide you fears, you place yourself above your peers
It's easy to see now I've had time to grieve

How will I adjust to the absence
When all I do is live in the past tense?
But I keep moving forward, now you're gone (now you're gone)
I wear the rose to keep in mind
That not all scars are kept inside
Reminding everyday where I belong

No solace for the past few months
This hatred churning in my gut
You neglect the ties we chose to abide
Lost sight and forgot all we've done
All we've done

You show no penitence for all of this deception you flaunt
It's getting to me, and I can't believe
You act so cavalier to hide you fears, you place yourself above your peers
It's easy to see now I've had time to grieve

Look what you've done to me
It took me so long to see
Look what you've done to me

Look what you've done to me
Feel the absence
I'll reminisce everyday
It took me so long to see
The real person
That you hid underneath
Look what you've done to me
Feel the absence
I'll reminisce everyday
It took me so long to see
The real person
That you hid underneath

You burnt down these bridges
Ripped open my stitches now, now
I'll try find the pieces
You shattered and stole somehow, somehow
