

Change

Between You & Me

I feel a little ordinary
Cause we made it up till now
But the future starts to scare me
The way that we lucked out
Baby, I'm not ashamed
Maybe I'm a little disgraced
About the way we sweep our problems under Light the fuse and run for cover

And I said 'Hey!
Maybe we messed up somewhere along the way?'
It's a fine line we frey
When the world just needs a leader
An optimistic believer
Please, I'm waiting for the world to change

It feels so temporary
Stuck in the clouds when did shit get so heavy?
I guess karma comes around
But baby, I'm not afraid
But maybe I'm a little too late
To find a way to keep the end from coming
Pack my bags and I'll keep on running

And I said 'Hey!
Maybe we messed up somewhere along the way?'
It's a fine line we frey
When the world just needs a leader
An optimistic believer
Please, I'm waiting for the world to change

(So lets make a change
I'm waiting for the world)

You can't blame no one else
Cause nothing seems to Nothing seems to change

And I said 'Hey!
Maybe we messed up somewhere along the way?'
It's a fine line we frey
When the world just needs a leader
An optimistic believer
Please, I'm waiting for the world to change

Hey!
Maybe we messed up somewhere along the way?
It's a fine line we frey
When the world just needs a leader
An optimistic believer
Please, I'm waiting for the world to change

(I'm waiting for you...)
When the world just needs a leader
An optimistic believer
Please, I'm waiting for the world to change...
