

Surrender

Beware of Darkness

Surrender, all of your dreams will be revealed
All of your life you've never seen what could become Surrender all of your life has been a fight
Running away from all the truth you couldn't handle

Millions of people are calling you to join the show
This kind of movement is one I've never seen before

Heart of mine
Let it shine
The changes in my life are killing me
But I will overcome

Surrender, all of the things you can't control
Give me the courage to walk into the unknown
Surrender, this moment is just how it should be
These are exactly the words you needed to hear, right now

Millions of people are calling you to join the show
This kind of movement is something I've never seen before

Heart of mine
Let it shine
The changes in my life are killing me
