

GHOST TOWN MELODY

BEXEY

You see, I'm really in a ghost town right now
And I'm out of tears you know
So maybe it's your time to cry
We can take turns for a minute
We just switch back but for now it's your turn

Now think it's your time to cry now (Yeah)
I crossed the world in a ghost town
(And I ain't coming back)
But this was your choice
You could not be mad at me (No)
Maybe next time you'll be
Your words won't cover me
Yeah, I told, oh-oh, you (Yes, I told you)
Yeah, I told, oh-oh, you (I told you)
Yeah, I told, oh-oh, you (Yes, I told you)
Yeah, I told you (Oh-oh-oh-oh)

I hate repeating myself lately
I know you're bad for my health, babe
My baby girl, you're so damn looking precious
But soon need you out as well crazy
Well, so am I taking all turns with losing minds
I put a stick in your throat with your braids
In my hands eyes turning white
Welcome to this world of mine
Showing your things you've never seen
I'm taking you where you've never been
Let me come elevate you, take you where you've never reach
I've tried all of your options, none of them worked
If you're coming with me or not
I'm getting that fuck out of this heart

It's your turn to cry, I need a break
Sick of this hurning me to try [?]
A dealing with this pointless material things
Never be keepin' [?]
Searchin' for a great escape

Now think it's your time to cry now
I crossed the world in a ghost town
(And I ain't coming back)
But this was your choice
You could not be mad at me
Maybe next time you'll be
Your words won't cover me
Yeah, I told, oh-oh, you (Yes, I told you)
Yeah, I told, oh-oh, you (I told you)
Yeah, I told, oh-oh, you (Yes, I told you)
I told you (Oh-oh-oh-oh)
