

Love's A Burden

Beyond The Black

Deep inside me
There is something that I just can't explain
Something ignites me
And when it's gone it all starts over again
I live the moment
I try to hate you
But I just can't deny my deepest will
'Cause love is all that I can ever feel

I trust in sorrow
That is something that seems to be my friend
'Cause I love tomorrow
When it's all gonna be the same
I tried to break out
Into the unknown
But I just can't deny my deepest will
'Cause love is all that I can ever feel

Love's a burden, but I want more to bear
I keep crossing the hurdles
And wipe away the tears
Love's a burden, but I just can't ignore
How good it feels
How good it feels

You petrify me
I wanna move, but I just can't make a turn
Something restrains me
I wanna go, but it pulls me back again
I wanna leave you
I wanna hurt you
But I just can't deny my deepest will
'cause love is all that I can ever feel

Love's a burden, but I want more to bear
I keep crossing the hurdles
And wipe away the tears
Love's a burden, but I just can't ignore
How good it feels
How good it feels

Sometimes a storm, sometimes it's still
But the wind keeps blowing
And takes my shattered soul away
On a journey to the inside of my melancholy

Love's a burden, but I want more to bear
I keep crossing the hurdles
And wipe away the tears
Love's a burden, but I just can't ignore
How good it feels
How good it feels
