

Hey, just calling to see where you're at
I haven't heard from you in a while
It's getting pretty late, I'm probably just gonna go to bed
I, I hope you're okay, bye

You do the same thing you told me that you never would
Told me you'd change even when you know you never could
Told me you'd love me but I see the way you look at her
You want me to stay, want me to stay, but

Get drunk, wake up, I'm by your side
Say don't hold on to what you said last night
I can't keep reading between your lines
And like a parasite, you kill my butterflies

Just go
'Cause my heart's been fucked up
Ever since you got here

You do the same thing you told me that you never would
Told me you'd change even when you know you never could
Told me you'd love me but tell me why you're out with her
I need you to go, need you to go
You'll do the same thing you told me that you never would
Told me you'd change even when you know you never could
Told me you'd love me but I see the way you look at her
I need you to go, need you to go

I was your diamond and you were the rough
I fought your demons, I did all I could
You always say you hate to see me cry
But you're the only fucking reason why
There's no way that I can take your hand and Smile for the photos but they never feel candid
And I know you better than you know yourself
So baby go

Go, go
'Cause my heart's been fucked up
Want you to go home
Ever since you got here

You do the same thing you told me that you never would
Told me you'd change even when you know you never could
Told me you'd love me but tell me why you're out with her
I need you to go, need you to go
You'll do the same thing you told me that you never would
Told me you'd change even when you know you never could
Told me you'd love me but I see the way you look at her
I need you to go, need you to go

Want me to stay, want me to stay
Want me to stay, want me to stay
Need you to go, I need you to go
I need you to go
