

Light Up The Sky

Bibio

Sing like you know
You feel it in your bones
You take a glimpse at me
And light up the sky
Oh girl

Don't hold no fires
For the dynasty of liars
You might as well forgive
And light up the sky
Oh girl

You're like your father
He tried to discipline
You know that it's self-righteous
But you take it on the chin

Say what you mean
I feel it when you sing
I take a glimpse at you
And light up the sky
Oh girl

Don't douse no flame
Or the burning of your blame
You might as well forget
And light up the sky
Oh girl

You'll see much further
When you learn the discipline
I know that it's courageous
But you'll take it on a whim
