

DumDum

Biffy Clyro

Everything's great
It's all been a pleasure
Nothing has changed
Life couldn't be better

I will ignore
All of the bodies piled up at my door
All my convictions, they soften the blow
Soften for no one but me

This is how we fuck it from the start

Everything's fake
They're all under pressure
To lie and report
The truth would upset us

I will ignore
Only the past can provide us a show
All my reactions come right from the source
And nobody knows it but me

This is how we fuck it from the start

This is how we fuck it from the start
This is how we fuck it from the start
This is how we fuck it from the start
This is how we fuck it from the start
