

I heard the whispers
I heard their sighs and moans
I wanted to upset some assholes
Show them that I don't belong

You can't pick a side, two lines are drawn
You can't erase everything you've known
Don't be afraid to ask someone
'Cause this is how it starts

We all get it wrong sometimes
Doesn't mean we shouldn't try, try, try
I think it's time to realise
We wanna get it right next time
You take all the lessons you learn
And all the bridges you've burned
We can be and be better now
We can be and be better now

I kiss the concrete
Laying face down in the road
Tryna be at one with the asphalt
Hoping that it swallows me whole

Please pick a side or you don't belong
The enemy's only a friend done wrong
You don't have to play but somebody's gotta win

We all get it wrong sometimes
Doesn't mean we shouldn't try, try, try
I think it's time to realise
We wanna get it right next time
You take all the lessons you learn
And all the bridges you've burned
We can be and be better now
We can be and be better now

We all get it wrong sometimes
Doesn't mean we shouldn't try, try, try
I think it's time to realise
We wanna get it right next time
You take all the lessons you learn
And all the bridges you've burned

We can be and be better now
We can be and be better now
