

Kittens, Cakes And Cuddles

Biffy Clyro

Heard you next door
It sounded like laughing
You've got very well
I knew it was screaming
Our own living girl
I hope will get through it and smile again

Stare at the girl
In the room she is singing
Song with a curse
Her pinkies are missing
What a wonderful voice
She'll change on the outside with surgery

Every now and then
A rain will fall in
Will melt the loneliness in your heart
Every now and then
A rain will fall in
Will melt the loneliness in your...

We'll bury them
We'll bury them
You'll never know the way I feel
Someone says
Let's see their death
You'll never know just how it feels
Tonight I've reached my darkest moment
But I feel like I'm you

Every now and then
A rain will fall in
Will melt the loneliness in your heart
Every now and then
A rain will fall in
Will melt the loneliness in your heart
Every now and then
(Something to save)
A rain will fall in
(Something to save)
Will melt the loneliness in your heart
(Something to save, Something to save)
Every now and then
(Something to save)
A rain will fall in
(Something to save)
Will melt the loneliness in your heart
(Something to save, Something to save)
