

Separate Missions

Biffy Clyro

Well, you kept your word, but you lost every part of me
Yeah, you kept your cool 'cause you couldn't stand the heat

You took it to the pinkest limit
You proved your point but didn't finish
You took it back, I won't forget it
I won't forget
I couldn't let it go
I couldn't let it go

Listen to the sound of the promises broken
Silence comes around 'cause you reap what you sow
And it hurts
You won't diminish anymore
Can you see the shape of the words that we spoke?
They came from the heart, but they stuck in my throat
And it hurts
You'll never diminish anymore

Well, you played your part and you shared in the history
We can see clearer now you chose to leave

There's no return and no revision
'Cause we were on separate missions
Before you spoke, you didn't mean it
You didn't mean
You didn't mean a word
You didn't mean a word

Listen to the sound of the promises broken
Silence comes around 'cause you reap what you sow
And it hurts
You won't diminish anymore
Can you see the shape of the words that we spoke?
They came from the heart, but they stuck in my throat
And it hurts
You'll never diminish anymore

Listen to the sound of the promises broken
Silence comes around 'cause you reap what you sow
And it hurts
You won't diminish anymore
Can you see the shape of the words that we spoke?
They came from the heart, but they stuck in my throat
And it hurts
You'll never diminish anymore
