Sorry and Thanks

Biffy Clyro

Gave birth through the barrel of a gun
Just like my father's son
Felt like it was yesterday
Made my heart stop

Gave birth and expected everyone
To make out and have some fun
I still wish there were dinosaurs
Pterodactyls and

You wanted to waste it all
I want everything at once
Let's meet middle ground
Hold on to your graditude
Everyone in the world is here
Let's meet in the middle ground

If we can and we will
Sorry and thanks for a different dream
If we can and we will
We'll dance and laugh to a different beat

Slit wrists and staple every thumb
To my committed tongue
Feel the wall and you're over it
I will lay you down

Gave birth through the barrel of a gun
Just like my father's son
Felt like it was yesterday
Made my heart stop

Sweet throne; it effected everyone
With huge amounts of love
Its like a phenomenon
Where's that wonderful

You wanted to waste it all
I want everything at once
Let's meet middle ground
Hold on to your graditude
Everyone in the world is here
Let's meet in the middle ground

If we can and we will
Sorry and thanks for a different dream
If we can and we will
We'll dance and laugh to a different beat

When your eyes
On the very next street
Greet it all
With a beautiful sheath
Block it out
The horror and the grief
Tonight we'll have
A reason to grieve

If we can and we will
