The Conversation Is...

Biffy Clyro

I wander streets at night and hope to god to see your face The fluorescent billboards sell a wonderful life that doesn't e xist anymore The conversation is The conversation is over

What will I do if I'm wrong Will I blame it on everyone Else like I always do So I'm a coward because of you

Are pills the only way to make myself complete again They become the only way to a wonderful life with a happy endin g The conversation is The conversation is over

What will I do if I'm wrong Will I blame it on everyone It's like I always do I'm a coward because of you I'm finding it hard to explain why I think that I'm right again I'd love someone else to blame so I'm a coward because of you And then you try to understand what it takes to be a man And then you look into your hearts it defines you

What will I do if I'm wrong Will I blame it on everyone It's like I always do I'm a coward because of you I'm finding it hard to explain why I think that I'm right again I'd love someone else to blame so I'm a coward because of you And then you try to understand what it takes to be a man And then you look into your hearts it defines you

The conversation is over The conversation is over.
