Touch

Biffy Clyro

How I feel, you'll never know
Some you win in, some you don't
Touch my hand, watch me float
And concede all control
I think we're on our way

I can scratch, and grind and claw
With the toughest of them all
We could dance another waltz
It's entirely up to you
I'm swaying night and day

We're lighting up the streets tonight
Surviving as we figure this out
Everywhere we could go
Everything we could do
There's no stopping us now
There's nothing stopping us now

Looking high and looking low
With the one I love the most
They'll never know what we lost
In the fire and the snow
It's all melted away

We're lighting up the streets tonight
Surviving as we figure this out
Everywhere we could go
Everything we could do
There's no stopping us now
There's nothing stopping us now

Baby when I call you
I'll be anything
You could ever hope for
I'll be everything
I will gallop forward
Slowly into view
I'm not saying homeward
Just somewhere new

No-one will ever compare
No-one will ever compare with you, darlin'
How was I never aware?
How was I never aware of my failings?
Who said that love would be fair?
Who said that love would be fair?
Without you, I'd rather be dead
You touched my body, raised my body

No-one will ever compare
No-one will ever compare with you, darlin'
How was I never aware?
How was I never aware of my failings?
Who said that love would be fair?
Who said that love would be fair?
Without you, I'd rather be dead

You touched my body, raised my body

No-one will ever compare
No-one will ever compare with you, darlin'
How was I never aware?
How was I never aware of my failings?
Who said that love would be fair?
Who said that love would be fair?
Without you, I'd rather be dead
You touched my body, raised my body

No-one will ever compare
No-one will ever compare with you, darlin'
How was I never aware?
How was I never aware of my failings?
Who said that love would be fair?
Who said that love would be fair?
Without you, I'd rather be dead
You touched my body, raised my body

We're lighting up the streets tonight
Surviving as we figure this out
Everywhere we could go
Everything we could do
There's no stopping us now
There's nothing stopping us now

Some things fall apart at the seams
(We're lighting up the streets tonight)
It wasn't you inviting me
(Surviving as we figure this out)
Somewhere an [?] grace
(Everywhere we could go, everything we could do)
Of where I've always been
(There's no stopping us now, there's nothing stopping us now)
But I don't know where I'm going

Baby when I call you
I'll be anything
You could ever hope for
Just let me in
