

True Believer

Biffy Clyro

How about now?
Do you want to be forgiven
For the fucking millionth time?
If you don't believe then what's the difference?
Unless you read between the lines

How about now, son?
Where's your joy if all's forbidden?
Sacrifice and heed the lie
Know your place and pay attention
But please ignore the warning signs

We both know
Only hope
I'm not devout, just a true believer
Never in doubt, such a true believer

So how you feeling now?
Are you still so fucking, still so fucking proud
And never in doubt?
You've been surrounded
And you're trying to raze it all down to the ground
How about now?

I don't know how, son
Do you want to live forever?
Do nothing for the final time
Quick to hide, slow to remember
But find a future worth your while

We both noticed
Our greatest weakness
I'm not devout, just a true believer
Never in doubt, such a true believer

So how you feeling now?
Are you still so fucking, still so fucking proud
And never in doubt?
You've been surrounded
And you're trying to raze it all down to the ground
How about now?
How about now?

We are light, we are frequencies
Fighting our way through the darkness
Only for love, you'll never know
Only for us, my faithful

We are light, we are frequencies
Fighting our way through the darkness
We are light, we are frequencies
Fighting our way through the darkness

Only love has it...
Only love has it...
Only love has it...
Only love has it...

Only love has it...
Only love has it...
Only love has it...
Only love has it...
Only love...

How about now?
Do you want to be forgiven
For the fucking millionth time?
If you don't believe then what's the difference?
Unless you read between the lines
