Big Black Delta

To seek revenge upon brute seems blasphemous
It's best to whine, then let it go

Give into the business of forgiveness
Is a weakness I can't ignore
Every time I resign it's a crying shame

The hairy worm turns itself into a swan
To leave the pain that is the ground
Try to use the wings that I can't see
And I cancel earths gravity
Up the source up to the light to cry in shame
And as I get closer I hear it say
Come to me come this way
Come little man, give me your hand let's fly away

Splash right into my lap
