Hey lil' moma why don't you ever smile? I know life ain't easy Bringing up a child, but yo

Listen lil' moma
Cause I'm feeling your pain
I wonder if your baby daddy out there feeling the same

Where your friend at lil' moma? They got plans tonight at the club Wanna get themselves a man tonight

They done left you all alone, huh lil' moma
Under pressure on your own Dealing with the drama Can you turn to your family and ask for help
Or would they turn you away
Cause they got problems they self Lil' moma gotta crib
But it's hell there
No frills gotta live on the welfare

Oh Iil' moma tell me what I can do To make you smile just one time And your little one too

Lil' moma just know
Some of us men are true
Lil' moma, this ones for you
Uh, lil' moma

Don't worry, you're stronger Just hold on a little bit longer Don't worry, you're stronger Just hold on a little bit longer

Girl I know your man has left you
With a child on your own
And you find it hard to cope with all the stress alone
And there's nowhere to run
Can't have any fun
Looking for someone to be there for you
All your hopes in love are gone
You don't have strength to believe Gonna take time but you will find that special one that you need But there's no need to rush, girl take your time
And you will find the one that will be true

Hey little mama why you so depressed? I know you wondering how the hell you got in this mess Your baby daddy's left baby's last nappy wet You can't turn to family when you feel neglect And I bet you did a couple of things that you regret There's always hope there never forget, all you gotter do is try harder My mama made it on her own without my father Me and two brothers wonder how she did it Maybe its because she never gave up and stayed committed Barely 16 now gotta deal with this The pressure make you wanna slit your wrist but don't The lord never gives you more than you can handle If you keep your head up ain't no telling what you can do Little Mama keep the faith, God will keep you safe Under his wing all you gotta do is turn to him And in the end you won't regret a thing
