

Turn My Back on the Sun

Big Star

Wouldn't it surprise somebody to find
Too much sun
Can make you blind
Something so bright
As you tends to burn me
Yea it's true I'm out for good this time

So I guess I'll turn my back on the sun
Something about it just don't seem to be as fun
I wanted to be warm and not feel so alone
And you were right above me every day
Then without warning I got so burned
I couldn't sleep at night when you went away

So I guess I'll turn my back on the sun
Maybe if I should swap that sky for another one
They'll be another one
They'll be another one
They'll be another one

I'm gonna be alright yeah
I'll stay in the dark until
Somebody lights up my world again
Yeah I gotta turn my back on the sun

Don't want to spend my nights without seeing anyone
Yeah, I got to turn my back on the sun
Maybe if I should swap that sky for another one
They'll be another one
They'll be another one
They'll be another one
