Devil Got My Woman

It was nothing but the devil Changed my baby's mind Yes, nothing but the devil Changed my baby's mind

I'd sooner be the devil Than to be that woman's man Yeah, I'd rather be the devil Than to be that woman's man

Well, I laid down last night Laid down last night Laid down last night You know I tried to take my rest

My mind started to rambling You know, like the wild geese in the west

Lord, I may be right Then again, I may be wrong Lord, I may be right Well, then again, I may be wrong Well the woman that I love Woman I love Stole her from my best friend

You know, he got lucky And he stole her back again

And I'd soon rather be the devil Than to be that woman's man
