

Face Down

Big Words

Summer is over and the tears are running down your face
Now that it's over, your true colours were my saving grace
As I reach for the shoreline, I wish you were all mine
Now I'm watching the moon rise, the stars are in your eyes
I'm lost in your ocean, I'm drowning but floating
Sometimes I wish, that I never kissed you girl

Summer is over and the tears were coming down your face
Now that it's over, your true colour were my saving grace
As I reach for the shoreline, I wish you were all mine
Now I'm watching the moon rise, the stars are in your eyes
I'm lost in your ocean, I'm drowning but floating
Sometimes I wish, that I never kissed you girl
Hold me now, watch me swim, before I drown
Girl I'll be right here, catching waves, face down
