

Head Together

Big Wreck

Those glances ricochet off everybody else
But they're sticking to me like glue
And if the situation ever was to change
Who's to say what the hell I'd do

The conversation's never had one
That's what a background's for

I need to keep my head together
I don't need to need nobody else

Can't fix the fight of flight
By finding something new
So I can't let you shine my shoes
And truth be told
There's probably nobody to blame
Never try it before you choose

It always comes off more than welcome
It came in through my back door

I need to keep my head together
I don't need to need nobody else
I need to keep my head together
I don't need to need nobody else

I need to keep my head together
I don't need to need nobody else
I need to keep my head together
I don't need to need nobody else

(Well I need)
Well I need to keep my head together
I don't need to need nobody else
(Well I need)
Well I need to keep my head together
I don't need to need nobody else
