(Highway, highway)

Last thing you'll see is smoke as I'm movin' on
You took all the love I gave and left me all alone
I'm travelin' on this road
I'm somewhere far from home
I'm put in all I had and I paid every goddamn toll
I'm tryna make it off this

Highway, highway
Oh, won't you take me home for a minute?
I swear it won't be long
Highway, highway
Oh, won't you take me home for a minute?
It's lonely on this road

I've been lost on this highway, tryna figure out life on this road
Shit, I lost all the love that I had in my soul
Tryna chase everything that was shiny and gold, huh
Ran away from my problems, I know, now I'm stuck on this highway with nowher e to go
Wonder if I call back, will I get to come home?
If I promise to right everything that I wronged?
But this road kinda bumpy, tank on E and my bank actin' funny
All those times you had told me you loved me
I tripped out, I see why you called me a dummy
Now I'm stuck in the worst place
Shouldn't have played with your heart in the first place
Yes, I still do remember our first date
Had you smilin' like it was your birthday
But I must say

Highway, highway
Oh, won't you take me home for a minute?
I swear it won't be long
Highway, highway
Oh, won't you take me home for a minute?
It's lonely on this road

Ay, I get it, I get it, I get it
All I saw was me, but your vision was vivid
Alone on this highway, your spirit, I feel it
I meant it when I said your love was the biggest Filled up my tank with the thoughts of your image
On the road, tryna race to you, dodgin' these tickets
For kisses, just hopin' to fulfill your wishes
I'll listen, I'm on the road back to your city, ay

Highway, highway
Won't you take me home for a minute?
I swear it won't be long
Highway, highway
Oh, won't you take me home for a minute?
It's lonely on this road
