

Yeah Yeah Yeah (i Got Faith Like A Butterfly's Wings)

Bill Mallonee

I can tell you're not sure if you wanna go
And really that's most understandable
There's whole a lot involved in where you place your bet
And all these reports? They're a little suspect

Taking a stab at matters of the heart
Shooting in the proverbial dark
You gotta a prayer like the breath of a little baby
I wish i knew how you felt about me

Chorus:

Yeah, yeah, yeah...not much i can bring
Yeah, yeah, yeah...i got faith like a butterfly's wing
Yeah, yeah, yeah...there's a world beneath your skin
For God's sake try to be your own best friend
Yeah, yeah, yeah...

The autumn branches have been stripped bare
Your breath it freezes & hangs in the air
The wind it howls over bleak terrain
If you make it back kid, well, you're never the same

Searching for a secret on this path
Always a little elusive just outta grasp
But the stones on the way have been worn smooth
So maybe that'll be some comfort to you
