

Face The Blues

Bill Miller

Go ahead and rob me, knock me down on the floor,
Not like I haven't been down there before.
And take away my dignity
Go ahead, just abandon me.
Not like I haven't felt this low before.

For I have lived with sorrow
Been through thick and thin
And by this time tomorrow
I will face the blues again,
Turn and face the blues again

My car broke down this morning, the wheels they just won't turn
Not like I haven't walked these streets before.
The dream that I was holding, she just up and walked out my front door
Not like I haven't seen that movie once or twice before

I have lived with sorrow...
