

Headlights

Billie Marten

Hang me out to dry
Wash away the colors of the night
It's a long and dark road

Put your headlights on
Try to find the you that is now gone
I can only guide you

'Cause she's all that you have
And she's all that you want
You've got to go alone
You've got to go where it takes you

Burn all the sorrow, count all the crows
Burn all the sorrow, count all the crows

Do you understand?
Do you understand?

Can you smell the fear
Running through the voices in your head
It's a dangerous game

Keep your head held high
Cover up the bruises of your life
These scars mean pain

'Cause she's all that you have
And she's all that you want
You've got to go alone
You've got to go where it takes you

Burn all the sorrow, count all the crows
Burn all the sorrow, count all the crows

Do you understand?
Do you understand?

And through it all
You'll walk alone
Come back to me
When she is gone

'Cause I'm all that you have
And I'm all that you want
You've got to go alone
You've got to go where it takes you

Burn all the sorrow, count all the crows
Burn all the sorrow, count all the crows

Do you understand?
Do you understand?
