

Teeth

Billie Marten

It's been a hard time, a long day
Our minds they play over and over again
And I call myself a friend
While you call yourself a stranger

We float upon the hills and on the grass
Speak words that they will hear but, never understand
And I'm writing this in a bad way
No one can hear what my head says

Oh no, take what you want from me
Because I can't bear it
I find it hard to breathe

Don't we all have our doubts on love
Don't we all think about it too much

If you ask if I'm fine then I'd say yes
But, I am lying through my teeth and they all know that
I am flawed
I am flawed

Still you float upon the hills and on the grass
Dreaming only of the time that's soon to pass
And I'd say I just exist in this darken world I live in

Oh no, don't come near me
Because I can't bear it
I find it hard to breathe

Don't we all have our doubts on love
Don't we all think about it too much

Don't we all have our doubts on love
Don't we all think about it too much
