

He'll Go Down

Billy Bragg

Drop-dead gorgeous and the rest
Resurrected his interest
Clouds so swift, the rain won't lift
He'll wait for you when you change your shift
He'll go down, he'll drag you on the ground

He'll panic you into attack
He'll tape your calls and play them back
And the next thing you'll be knowing your desperation will be s howing
And He'll go down, he'll drag you on the ground

He'll go down

He'll offer you pretty balloons
They'll burst before they've played a tune
Oh please don't wear that satin dress
And please don't give him your home address
'Cause he'll go down, he'll drag you on the ground

He plays a high fast mighty game
It always ends up just the same
Your welcome will be worn out
Your suspicions will be borne out
And he'll go down, he'll drag you on the ground

He'll go down
He'll drag you on the ground
He'll go down
He'll drag you on the ground
He'll go down
