

Everything Is Changing

Billy Currington

Looking for a job in this new old city
Well, it's got a new face and it ain't too pretty
Driving down the road where I used to live
Looking nothing like it did when I was a kid
That little hardware store on Main
Is now a coffee shop in a grocery chain
Wish it all would of just stayed the same

Everything's changing now
I barely recognize my favorite town
Yeah, everything that made me
Is turning into memories
And time ain't slowing down
Everything is changing now (everything is changing now)

Funny how one lane turns to four
You get a highway in front of your front door
Parking lots sitting where farmers were
I miss the corn, I miss the dirt
A little lost where I was raised
Looking back now on the good ole days
Wish it all would of just stayed the same

Everything's changing now
I barely recognize my favorite town
Yeah, everything that made me
Is turning into memories
And time ain't slowing down
Everything is changing now

Everything is changing, is changing around me
Everything is changing, is changing
Yeah, everything is changing, is changing around me
Everything is changing, is changing

Everything's changing now
I barely recognize my favorite town
Yeah, everything that made me
Is turning into memories
And time ain't slowing down
Everything is changing now (everything is changing now)

Yeah, everything is changing, is changing around me
Everything is changing, is changing
Yeah, everything is changing, is changing around me
Everything is changing, is changing
