

Bourbon Vacation

Billy Dean

Most nights come easy
Your memory don't haunt me
I fall into bed without your voice inside my head
And then there's the long ones
When the morning won't ever come
I crawl from this bed remembering all the things you said

So I take a Bourbon vacation
And I pour them tall
On my Bourbon vacation
I don't think of you at all

My heart's like this bottle
And it's a bitter pill to swallow
No matter what I do
It's just so empty without you

So I take a Bourbon vacation
And I pour them tall
On my Bourbon vacation
I don't think of you at all

Old Crow and Wild Turkey, I don't get a damn
As long as I'm too drunk to know where I am

It's gonna take all my better angels
To drown this demon inside me
But right now I'd drink anything
From ole Kentucky to Tennessee

So I take a Bourbon vacation
And I pour them tall
On my Bourbon vacation
I don't think of you
On my Bourbon vacation
It's gonna be my downfall
On my Bourbon vacation
Well I don't think of you
No I don't think of you at all

Most nights come easy...
