

Bring Honor Back Home

Billy Howerdel

They'll penetrate the walls of your thinking
With the promise of truth
The numbers are not in your favor
They're coming for you

Cast out these figments and start over
All hail sanity and bring honor back home
Free yourself from this spell and start over
All hail sanity and bring honor back home

They set blaze to the temple of reason
Repeat every lie 'til it's true
Isolate and destroy all dissenting opinions
They're coming for you

Cast out these figments and start over
All hail sanity and bring honor back home
Free yourself from this spell and start over
All hail sanity and bring honor back home
