

Feels So Good

Billy Lockett

I know if we were on water I wouldn't alight
I said a couple-a things that felt right at the time
We broke up for a reason
Last night I forgot the reason why
I know I shouldn't have called you
You shouldn't reply

Call it a rush of blood to the head I should've ignored
I never thought it'd end in a bed where I don't sleep anymore

Why does it feel so good?
Breaking all of the rules I had with you
I know I drank too much and said enough to set us off again
Why does it feel so good?
Crossing all of the lines I made with you
Truth is I've woken up and realised I can't go back again

I'm not your lord or your saviour
You won't ever be mine
If I said it before, said it a million times

Call it a rush of blood to the head I should've ignored, ignore d
I never thought it would end in a bed where I don't sleep anymo re

Why does it feel so good?
Breaking all of the rules I had with you
I know I drank too much and said enough to set us off again
Why does it feel so good?
Crossing all of the lines I made with you
Truth is I've woken up and realised I can't go back again

Why does it feel so good?
Breaking all of the rules I had with you
I know I drank too much and said enough to set us off again
Why does it feel so good?
Crossing all of the lines I made with you
Truth is I've woken up and realised I can't go back again
Truth is I've woken up and realised I can't go back again